Some of our sidewalks need a few boards now and then. Unfortunately a plank sidewalk will not last forever, and a little repair is always in order.

The Sealy News roasted the Bells Concert company in good shape, claiming that they charged Patti prices for parlor amateur talent. That description fits a big per cent of the actors who strike Texas.

The Texas base ball league, with only four teams, is not very promising to start with, but if they play exceptionally good ball they may succeed in infusing new life into the national game in the Lone Star State.

THE BEAUMONT ENTERPRISE has ordered a Mergenthaler linotype machine to put up its type. As these machines are very expensive it is rare that a paper in a city the size of Beaumont can afford them. But the managers of THE ENTERPRISE are rustlers and intend to be up to date. Jasper News-Boy.

A man in Sealy has purchased a half interest in the state, for one year, in an ant killing machine, and he warns the people against buying ant killers of anyone but himself. This goes to prove that the ant killing industry is controlled by a trust, and should have the attention of the attorney general.

The Philippine proclamation issued by the commission sent to treat with the natives will rob the anti-expansionists of many of their arguments. The United States cannot do less than become responsible for the security of property interests in the islands until the Filipinos are capable of self government, and the political party that advocates a different policy will be very short of votes at the next election.

The Rockport Republic tells the story of an enterprising merchant who gilded a lump of coal, placed it in his window, and labeled it: "A Nugget from Klondike. Value, $9,000." He failed to remove this "valuable nugget" from the window one night and in the morning found the window broken and the gilded coal gone. It cost him ninety dollars to replace the broken plate glass.

To Stand the Strain

Of everyday wear a suit must be well made clear through. Every seam, every stitch and every button hole must be carefully looked after or the garment is not perfect when finished. The construction of the CLOTHING we offer is such as to insure perfect strength. The colors are fast, the cut and style correct and the finish of a high order.

LOUIS MAYER,

One of the First Symptoms of Failing Health in a Woman is NERVOUSNESS.

Did you ever think that there is always a cause for this malady? In women Nervousness is generally the forerunner of some form of female disease, such as Whites, Pains, Profuse or Irregular Menstrues, etc., either of which will produce Nervousness in all of its distressing intensity. If you use

G. F. P. (Gerald's Female Panacea)

you will very soon be cured of Nervousness and all other female troubles as well. This famous tonic has cured cases which have been pronounced incurable by physicians. You can be cured by the use of G. F. P.

I HAVE SUFFERED FOR YEARS

With painful menses, attended with sour stomach, rushing of blood to the head, and occasional whites. I also have severe nervousness and I am not able to rest. I have used various female remedies for a long time but found no relief until about two months ago when I commenced using your G. F. P., and it is doing me more good than all others. I shall continue its use.

The Rice Market:

Dan Talmage's Sons Co. review the rice market for the past week as follows:

Wholesome activity has prevailed throughout the week and the aggregate was quite up to its predecessors. At the moment there is a considerable spot stock of foreign, imports having recently been made with somewhat free hand in anticipation of the larger call incident to the opening of navigation. Holders maintain a firm front, as no supply can be obtained at former cost. Advances from the south note enlarging demand and the presence of a considerable volume of buying or orders at figures closely approximating current prices makes sentiment decidedly bullish. Count of stock, rough and cleaned at all points, on the 1st instant, showed some to be much less than at equal date last year. Straggling receipts at local milling centres is thought to augur the end of the crop in planters' hands. Prices at all points are strong and sharp advances may be expected almost any day, especially in the ordinary to fair grades. As regards higher grades the impression prevails that they are nearing the danger line, being already relatively dear in comparison with foreign of similar character. Cables and correspondence from abroad note decreasing shipments, and with tight stocks current prices are regarded as reasonable. While there are no important reasons now in sight for greatly higher prices, the situation may be said to be up to a supply and demand basis with gradually hardening tendency.

Talmage, New Orleans, telegraphs Louisiana crop movement to date: Receipts—Rough, 687,525 sacks; last year, 508,040 sacks. Sales—Cleaned, 166,402 barrels; last year, 109,012 barrels. Good enquiry; prices firm; outlook favoring early advance.

Talmage, Charleston, telegraphs Carolina crop movement to date: Receipts—Cleaned, 35,709 barrels; sales, 32,003 barrels.

Fair enquiry at former value and a large waiting list ready and willing to operate at least fraction off current figures.

Color Blind.

Not long ago I was in the crowded office of a celebrated specialist for the eye and ear, and I happened to notice a man sitting at one of the tables with a most bewildered expression on his face and a pile of brightly colored worsteds in front of him. After a desperate struggle he succeeded in associating them, but, alas, not according to shade or color. Dr. C. came in then and said: "Is that the best you can do? Try again and put the colors in five piles."

Once more the unfortunate man began his hopeless task. There were pink, blue, lavender, yellow and red worsteds to be piled, each color by itself. The man began. Yellow was comparatively easy, red not so bad, but pink, blue and lavender conveyed no idea of difference. The perspiration rolled down the man's face, his features became fairly distorted, and finally we heard him murmur, "This is a corker!" I became desperate myself, and when he finally gravenly separated the blue shades, putting some with the lavender and others with the pink, I felt like screaming. As soon as I could see the doctor I expressed my sympathy, and he replied:

"Yes, sympathy is very well, but if you were riding on a railway train you would like to be sure that the engineer knew the primary colors! This man has passed a series of examinations and is qualified to assume a responsible position, but he has this serious defect in eyesight." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

Coolness in Danger.

"I do not send my men where I will not go myself."

It was Winfield Scott Schley who said this when he was commander of the New York and stood on the forward bridge of his ship outward bound from one of the ports of the Atlantic seaboard. Ten minutes before a badly frightened man had run up to him, calling out:

"Captain, the forward port magazine is on fire!"

"Then shut your mouth," said the captain. The man, thus recalled to his senses, touched his cap and relapsed into silence, while his commander quietly ordered a fire drill and a moment later commanded the flooding of the magazine. Both orders, a part of the daily routine of every American warship, were promptly carried out, but it was not until all danger was past that the officers and men obtained knowledge of the true state of affairs. When they did find out, they realized that their captain had been standing all the time just over the magazine, and one of the officers begged him to come down from the bridge and let him take his place. It was then that the captain made the remark quoted above.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Elephant as a Worker.

In the Siamese Malay states there are probably about 1,000 domesticated elephants all told, and in the Lao country probably over 2,000 animals are working at the present moment. That these animals breed in captivity in Siam is due to the fact that a large number of them spend the greater part of their time holiday making in the jungle. When there is no work for his beast, the mahout takes him out to a nice cool green bit of forest and leaves him there to enjoy himself. There is no expense connected with his upkeep, for he looks after himself. He has a hobby of rattan round his feet to dissuade him from wandering too far, and a wooden bell round his neck, by the tone of which the mahout or his little boy can always find him, when they go out once a month to look him up and give him some bananas.—Geographical Journal.
